Our program is responsible for wildland fire management duties ranging from suppression to aviation, dispatch to prevention/education and also fuels management on approximately 4.3 million acres of public land in south central Idaho. This area experiences a ten-year average of 79 fires per year, burning approximately 175,000 acres. Over the years, our seasonal employees have been able to travel and assist in fighting fires across the country. We are also proud of our fuels management program that performs a variety of treatments on more than 50,000 acres each year.
